

New FDLP Service Partnership with St. Mary's University

U.S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE

FDLP PARTNER

St. Mary's University's Louis J. Blume Library's Government Information on the Web Subject Index is now an official service partner for the Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP). This subject index provides a starting point for browsing subject areas, bringing both broad and detailed subject listings from many libraries together in one index.

The U.S. Government Printing Office thanks St. Mary's University for their efforts to maintain this valuable resource and looks forward to continuing this successful partnership with the University.

If your library is interested in pursuing its own partnership initiative with the FDLP, information and the application form can be found on the FDLP Desktop under Outreach > Partnerships.